Main supervisor, Fredrik Dybfest Hjorthen (PhD, May 2017). Thesis: “Who should intervene? Distributing the Duties of Humanitarian Intervention”.

Second supervisor, Thomas Gelotte (PhD, December 2015). Thesis: “Den goda medborgaren i det västerländska samhället”

Second supervisor, Johan Hyrén (PhD, September 2013). Thesis: “Självskapelseetik bortom Foucault: en rättviseteori för ett mångkulturellt, liberalt och demokratiskt samhälle”.

Teaching experience

I have about 800 hours of experience in front of a class. Of these, roughly 450 hours are lectures. The remainder are from leading seminars. I have taught a wide range of subjects, in Swedish and English, at various levels. My teaching has predominantly revolved around political theory, both contemporary and historical, but I have also taught empirical and normative methods. I have supervised more than 32 bachelor and master theses to completion. A complete teaching portfolio, from 2002 and onwards, is available upon request.
